CRUSHED TO DEATH BY ROAD ROLLER

Farmer's Son Falls Beneath
 Machine Near Rockville.

Rockville, Md., Dec. 13.—Thrown from a steam roller which he was trying to move from the road between Cedar Grove and Germantown, Clinton C. Watkins, 23 years old, son of Noah Watkins, was killed when the roller reversed and passed over his head and shoulders.

Watkins and his brother, who live on their father's farm at Cedar Grove, were on their way to Germantown about 10 o'clock last night. When they reached a point where the road was being repaired and saw the steam roller standing across the road, Watkins jumped aboard the machine and attempted to roll it under its own steam from the roadway.

The roller responded to his touch on the throttle and started forward. In his haste to stop it, Watkins pulled the throttle through to the reverse, and the sudden stopping threw him to the road directly back of the roller. Responding to the reverse lever, the roller crashed back upon the prostrate man, and, before he could crawl aside, ran over his head and shoulders, crushing him to a pulp and grinding his frame into the dirt of the road.

The brother ran for assistance, and neighboring farmers assisted in moving the body to his home. It is not moving that an inquest will be held.

MRS. STOKES TAKES WITNESS STAND

New York, Dec. 13.—Counsel for Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad stared in undisguised surprise and every spectator in the court room sat up and gasped at the trial of the show girls for the shooting of Millionaire W. E. D. Stokes this afternoon when the prosecution called to the stand a pretty young woman, red-cheeked and red-haired and stunningly govt. In answer to the first question, she said she was Mrs. Stokes.

She ignored the show girls, who glared ferociously at her, until she was excused. It was the apparent object of the prosecution to show Mrs. Stokes to the jury, for her testimony was brief and without vital bearing on the case. Unlike her husband, who is more than twice her age, she knew exactly when they were married, February 11, 1911. She admitted she kept a diary, and consulted the leather-covered book for the information that on May 27, the day Lillian Graham wrote the letter announcing her intention to commit suicide, she was at Lexington, Ky., with Mr. Stokes. When she was excused she lingered in the court room long enough to hear Dr. Thorntley testify that Mr. Stokes was still too ill to leave his bed.

The defense will put Mrs. Singleton, Miss Graham's sister, on the stand tomorrow morning, on the taking of testimony with that of Police Inspector Russell, to whom the girls told their story of the shooting on the night it occurred. The defense will sum up to-morrow afternoon, and the prosecution will have its final closing Friday morning. The case will go to the jury Friday afternoon.

SEEKS POLICE JUDGESHIP.
 Attorney Gottlieb Mentioned as Successor to A. R. Malloway.
 Attorney Lewis R. Gottlieb is a candidate for appointment as successor to Alexander R. Malloway, whose term as judge of the Police Court has expired. Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana; Representatives Goldfogle and Levy, of New York; and Dwyer and Quinn, of Missouri, called on President Taft yesterday in behalf of Mr. Gottlieb. The President will receive word from the Commissioners before making the appointment.

Mr. Gottlieb is a Mason and a member of the Royal Arcanum, Knights of Pythias, Progressive Order of West, Order of British Americans, Independent Order of Abraham, Woodmen of the World, and Modern Woodmen of America.

SHARP FIGHT FOR DELEGATES WILL BEGIN AT ONCE

President's Friends Will Insist Upon Instructions.

CAMPAIGN HAS BEGUN

Lively Times in Politics From Now Until Spring.

Job Hedges, of New York, Independent Because Republicans Seem to Be Afraid—Chairman Barnes Says that Roosevelt Is Aiming to Be Dictator—Is Beveridge a Candidate?

The chief issue in the selection of delegates to the Republican national convention is to be the question whether they are to go instructed or uninstructed. The anti-Taft Republicans, and these include the men who are seeking to throw the nomination to Roosevelt, will bend every effort to have as many uninstructed delegations as possible. They realize that their one hope against President Taft is to submit to the fortunes of war when Chicago is reached, and they desire to keep the situation open as far as possible up to the last minute.

WILL FIGHT FOR INSTRUCTIONS.

President Taft's friends are fully aware of this programme and the motive behind it, and will strive for instructed delegations. The fight for the control of the convention will begin early in January, when the first steps will be taken to select delegates.

The meeting of the Republican National Committee here effectively disclosed the hollowness of the La Follette boom. The aspirations of the Wisconsin statesman were not even mentioned in the buzz of political conversation among the Republican national leaders. Nobody seemed even to consider La Follette, who speculation held would be President Taft and Col. Roosevelt.

Want Roosevelt Silent.

Republicans who are urging Col. Roosevelt to run again believe that the surest way of promoting the Roosevelt boom is for the former President himself to remain silent on the subject. There were indications yesterday that Mr. Taft's supporters were also appreciating this fact, and that their efforts in the future will be directed toward putting Col. Roosevelt in a position where he will be obliged to say something personally on this subject. Mr. Taft's friends are apparently of the opinion that the quickest and most effective way to meet the Roosevelt issue will be to bring the Colonel into the open if possible.

To-day-time Republicans the most unusual feature of the recent political confab here has been the apparent "yellow streak" shown by many of the Republican leaders. The tendency to regard the fight as lost has aroused the indignation of many leading Republicans, among them John E. Hedges, of New York City. Hedges yesterday, after speaking highly of Representative Underwood's management in the House, remarked: "The Democrats have said 'no' to the Republican leaders, and the Republican leaders, instead of saying 'no' back, have been so startled by Democratic effrontery that they have given the appearance of timidity."

No Necessity for Apologies.

"The Republican party is a pro party, and has succeeded because it has advocated things and has merited support through its force of leadership and courage," he added. "I have listened for two days to political talk in the corridors of the hotels, and am ashamed of the shilly-shally and half-apologetic tones of the conversations. The party has nothing to be ashamed of, and it is a disgrace that it has made substantial contributions to national and international history, and has conducted itself with dignity in international matters and been wholesome without being spectacular. There have been statements made by some high in authority that have created false impressions. Mr. Taft has conducted himself as President with dignity and conscience, and has been President without endeavoring to be the party head. The success of the Republican party next fall in the national election depends largely on the unselfishness of its leaders and their willingness to contribute toward the party success at the expense of their ambition."

Mr. New at the White House.

Col. Harry S. New, of Indiana, who on Tuesday was elected chairman of the committee of arrangements for the next Republican convention, called at the White House yesterday and had a conference with Charles D. Hill, Secretary to the President. Mr. New left Washington last night for Indianapolis. He said that a preliminary meeting of the convention would be held in Chicago during the second week of January to discuss plans for the coming convention, which will be held at Chicago June 12 next.

As he was leaving the White House, Mr. New declared that the statement of J. M. Lee, chairman of the State central committee of Indiana and one of former Senator Beveridge's political lieutenants, was part of a prearranged plan to discredit the candidacy of President Taft for re-election.

He repeated his previous statement that Mr. Lee's appointment in not being appointed to office inspired the declaration. He asserted that the Indiana delegation would be instructed to elect Mr. Taft.

To Remove Blotchy, Muddy, or Sallow Skin

(From Beauty and Health.)
 To remove sallowness, muddiness, freckles, blotches, or any complexion difficulty, the best thing to do is to remove the skin itself. This is easily, painlessly, and inexpensively done, by the application of ordinary mercuric wax, procurable at any drug store. The wax absorbs the defective outer skin, a little each day, gradually bringing the cuts or second layer of skin to the surface. The pores are unclogged and the face breathes in the life-giving oxygen. The new skin is beautifully soft and white, bearing the healthy glow of youth.

Just apply the wax as you would cold cream, only not rubbing it in. In the morning wash it off with warm water. It's the most effective treatment I know of for blackheads, pimples, moth patches, and liver spots.

diana delegation would be for Taft. "If the Republican party cannot win with Mr. Taft," he said, "it certainly cannot win with any one else. Mr. Lee and I differ radically in our opinions. I believe that the electoral vote of Indiana will be cast for Mr. Taft and that the attempt of the gentlemen who have named Mr. Lee's statement will fail of its purpose."

Chairman Hill Also Calls.

Ex-Gov. John F. Hill, of Maine, acting chairman of the Republican National Committee, also called at the White House to see President Taft and Secretary Hill. Mr. Hill denied that he discussed with Mr. Taft the question of having delegates to the national convention instructed for the President. "The action of the Republican National Committee at its meeting yesterday," Mr. Hill said, "was in complete sympathy with the administration."

Progressive Issue Statement.

The Progressive Republican Bureau, of which Senator La Follette is the head, in a statement issued yesterday, charges the Republican National Committee with adopting a "middle-of-the-road" policy, and dodging the question of Presidential preference primary offered by the progressive Republicans, and which the bureau states "is demanded by the people of the country."

The statement declares that by adopting the resolution leaving it discretionary with the State committees in States which have Presidential primary laws whether the delegates to the national convention shall be selected by the primary system or by the old convention system, the State central committees are made more powerful than the people or than any expression of their will.

Committee Member Will Retire.

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 13.—Mal. Alton Farrell, of Ansonia, to-day authorized the statement that Charles F. Brooks, Connecticut member of the Republican National Committee, would retire, though the resignation might not be until after the election of 1912.

On top of reports from Washington that Mr. Brooks, who was recently indicted and fined by the government's trust-busters in the wire trust case, had been hobnobbing with that portion of the National Committee that prefers uninstructed delegates, came the statement to-night from J. Henry Ruckebach, Republican boss of this State, that Connecticut would select Taft delegates next May. No one is thus far mentioned as a possible successor to Mr. Brooks, and some inquiry to-night elicited the opinion that Mr. Brooks would not be asked by the recent experience with the Wickersham branch of the government and would be found working for Taft's nomination and election.

Is Beveridge a Candidate?

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 13.—That former Senator A. Beveridge will fight as dark horse in the Presidential campaign is the construction placed by well-informed persons on the statement given out by State Chairman Edwin M. Lee in Washington last night, declaring, "Taft is the only man who can win."

Beveridge is for neither Taft nor La Follette. He is not co-operating with the La Follette people, and he has enthusiastic friends who believe the situation will get into such shape that the brilliant Indiana ex-Senator will be the party's logical choice. It is now stated that the progressives of Indiana, under the leadership of Mr. Lee, are endeavoring to have the Indiana delegation go to Chicago without instructions.

In fact, Lee in Washington to-day said he was returning to Indiana to run for the open if possible, and opposing the instruction of delegates to the national convention for Taft.

Harry S. New, Joseph B. Keating, and other leaders will demand instructions. This will probably insure a hard contest.

Calls Roosevelt a Dictator.

New York, Dec. 13.—William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the Republican State committee, gave out a sensational interview on political matters to-day.

He declared that Theodore Roosevelt was aiming to become dictator of the United States within three years, and that President Taft was unwise in making his long speaking trip, because no man could talk so much and not say fool things.

In three years, he added, not only will the peril of a Roosevelt dictatorship face the country, but anarchy and a pure democracy will threaten.

London, Dec. 13.—Lady Constance Foljambe, who created a sensation in high social circles last July by failing to appear at the church for her marriage to Rev. A. H. K. Hawkins, again caused astonishment to her friends and acquaintances by quietly marrying the minister this afternoon on a platform of the London Underground.

On July 3, with the church filled by many persons socially prominent in the West End of London, great surprise was caused by the return of a messenger dispatched for Lady Constance with the message from the Earl of Liverpool's residence that "Lady Constance went out shopping this morning and has not yet returned."

She disappeared from London and announced that she had changed her mind. Society had almost forgotten the occurrence.

Lieut. Lanthume had promised to take lunch with his wife and sister at their home near the camp, and they were awaiting his arrival when the aeroplane suddenly dropped from a height of 300 yards.

Changes Deeds of Conscience.

A bill which may or may not indicate plans for reform in District revenue regulations was introduced yesterday in the House by the chairman of the House District Committee. The bill provides that when the United States and the District of Columbia contribute jointly to the purchase of a piece of ground "the deed of conveyance therefor shall be made to the District of Columbia and the United States jointly in the same proportion to which each contributed."

CONFERENCE PLAN ON TRANSFER BILL

Disregard Opposition of the Commissioners.

WILL HOLD BIG MASS MEETING

Citizens' Measure Declared to Be Least Likely to Be Successfully Attacked in the Courts—Corporation Counsel Thomas Supports the Works Proposition.

Despite the opposition of the District Commissioners, who yesterday announced that they would support the Works universal transfer bill, as amended by them instead of the reciprocal transfer bill, recently framed by the citizens' conference on universal transfers, the executive committee of the organization last night adopted a resolution, standing by its approval of the citizens' bill.

"We reiterate our approval of the citizens' bill," reads the resolution, "as a measure which, if enacted into law, will most surely provide universal transfers upon the street railway lines of the District; which will be least likely to be successfully attacked and nullified in the courts, and which will be most equitable in its operation both to the people and to the railway companies."

Mr. Thomas Is Busy.

Referring to the decision of the Commissioners, which was reached yesterday, after Corporation Counsel Thomas had presented a brief report, recommending the enactment of the amended Works bill, the resolution, adopted by the conference last night, points out that Mr. Thomas admitted in his report a lack of study of the two bills presented to him for consideration.

"Press of other public business demanding attention forbids immediate consideration of the difference in detail as to the extent in operation of the proposed transfer system in the two bills," says the corporation counsel.

Mr. Thomas' objection to the citizens' bill was with respect to the plan for adjustment of rates for settlement between the various railway companies, as provided by the measure.

"The citizens' bill," says Mr. Thomas, "is a case of 24 cents for the redemption of a transfer. It is likely that street railway companies could make sufficient showing in the first instance to secure an injunction against the rate as nonconformable, particularly as the bill does not provide against this exigency. If no injunction is obtained, on final hearing the rate may be found unreasonable, noncompensatory or confiscatory, and, if so found, the bill will fail of its purpose. In other words, the rate feature makes the bill nonelastic on the rate question."

Provides for Review.

The Commissioners' bill provides that they shall fix the rates after a hearing, and provides for judicial review. The bill makes the rate fixed by the Commissioners final until reversed by the courts.

The citizens' bill has already received the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchants' Association, the Central Labor Union, and various other civic and commercial organizations.

The citizens' conference had hoped that the Commissioners would co-operate with them in an effort to obtain universal transfers, but as agreement on one bill has been found impossible, the conference will begin at once to urge enactment of its own legislation. Plans were begun last night at the meeting of the executive committee in the office of Charles W. Barr, chairman of the conference, for a mass meeting to be held on the evening of Tuesday, January 9, in the old Masonic Temple building, Ninth and F streets northwest, for the purpose of arousing even greater interest in the universal transfer movement.

Among those who will be asked to address the meeting are Senator John D. Works, California Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, Representative Ben Johnston, Carl Anderson, Simms, and others. A band will be procured for the evening.

WU'S VIGOROUS PROTEST.

Former Minister Opposed Loan to Chinese Government.

The State Department has received from Dr. Wu Ting-fang, leader of the Chinese revolutionists, a cablegram protesting against the proposed international loan to the Peking government. Similar messages are known to have been received by Andrew Carnegie and prominent banking firms.

Officials of the State Department declined to make public the text of the message, but stated the former Minister to the United States declared the consummation of such a joint-power loan as was proposed would be interpreted by the revolutionists as an act of partiality in favor of the imperialists and against the rebel cause.

Dr. Wu's message was at once cabled to Minister Calhoun, at Peking, for his information.

MME. CURIE NAMED IN DIVORCE SUIT

Noted Woman Scientist Cited in Langevin Petition.

Paris, Dec. 13.—Following the publication two weeks ago of the letters between Mme. Curie and Prof. Paul Langevin, which caused a great sensation, Mme. Curie was to-day cited in a petition filed in the divorce court by Mme. Langevin.

Mme. Langevin asks in her petition for separation from her marriage and that the children of their marriage shall be left in her custody. She also seeks separate maintenance on the grounds of her husband's misconduct.

Prof. Langevin, through his attorney, separation from her husband and that the petition filed in court. This procedure is customary in France, even when the parties to the suit have reached an agreement, but nothing definite can be concluded from the fact until the court renders its decision, which is expected within a week.

Both parties to the suit submitted their conclusions to the court. The attorney for Mme. Langevin submitted also a batch of documents containing letters alleged to have passed between Mme. Curie and Prof. Langevin, which he contended "prove grave injuries," this term in the French courts meaning either physical violence or infidelity. Mme. Langevin alleges that Mme. Curie tried to separate her from her husband, Mme. Langevin, however, caused it to be announced that if a separation, which becomes a divorce at the end of three years, is granted, she will withdraw her allegations of misconduct against her husband and Mme. Curie, which she brought some time ago in the Criminal Court.

JURY NEARLY COMPLETED.

Beef Barons Adopt Tactics of Day in Chicago Trial.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—The developments to-day at the trial of the Chicago beef barons indicated that the defense will force the government to use all of its peremptory challenges in an effort to keep a few farmers on the jury. The only peremptory exercised by the defense was to challenge a solid old farmer, who had qualified in every way, and again there were but three farmers left.

Shortly after noon the government tendered a panel to the defense. When adjournment was taken for the day there were eleven men in the box, some of whom the defense will challenge. Seven have been accepted by both sides. Only twenty-two of the new venire of fifty have qualified, and a third venire is expected to be called before the jury is finally accepted by both sides. The government has sixteen and the defense twenty-three peremptory challenges left.

The government is confident of completing the jury to-morrow, but those who have witnessed the tactics of the defense believe that it will be days before the jury box will contain twelve men whom the defense wants to trust with its case.
